

WHAT IS A...

ENVIRONMENTAL ECONOMIST

Environmental economists apply mathematical techniques to quantify the potential environmental impacts of government policies and sustainability decisions often in consultation with other economists and environmental experts.

STARTING POINT

GCSEs & Functional Skills

1

A-Levels in Business, Economics, Geography, Maths, Biology

2

Graduate Economist

Senior Environmental Economist

BSc Economics
MSc / PGDip / PGCert Environmental

3

4

TOP TIPS

Largely a desk-based role with a large amount of reading.

WHAT SKILLS DO YOU NEED?

- Strong economic and analytical thinking
- Good attention to detail
- Data collection and analysis

AVERAGE SALARY

£45,000

SCAN ME

